BOOKS ON EXHIBIT
AT UM LIBRARY

MISSOULA--

Beginning today (July 6) and continuing for six weeks the University of Montana Library has 835 new books on display from the annual Books on Exhibit collection.

The books, all published in 1969, range from elementary level picture books to guidance, history and science on the secondary level.

Dr. Lawrence Hodges, UM library science professor, is in charge of the exhibit, which is designed mainly for use by teachers.

Books on Exhibit is a national exhibiting operation that represents the selected books of 71 major publishing houses. Over 145 subject classifications are included in the exhibit.

The exhibit is covered by curriculum-related, annotated and fully indexed catalogues which are free to teachers, librarians and administrators. A special listing of books which are eligible for purchase under the National Defense Education Act is also available.

Books on Exhibit will be displayed in six segments. The first half of 1969's selected books will be displayed in series with primary through grade six books on display the first week; junior high books during the second week, and high school books during the third week.

The last three weeks of the exhibit will include the second half of the selected 1969 books, displayed in the same order.

The UM Library summer hours are Monday-Thursday, 8 a.m.-11 p.m.; Friday, 8 a.m.-5 p.m.; Saturday, 8 a.m.-12 p.m. and Sunday, 4 p.m.-10 p.m.
